Body

Please note that Design Manual Letter #4 dated July 24, 1995 should have been Design Manual Letter #5.

Attached are copies of revisions to the Design Division's Policy, Procedure and Design Manual. Following is a summary of the revisions.

Contents, Volume II. Revision date changed to 8-4-95.

The revision dates for Section 6-07 has been changed to 8-4-95.

Section 6-07, Bituminous Construction Materials. The entire Section 6-07, excluding any figures, was reformatted to a one column format and the revision date changed to 8-4-95.

A new paragraph is added to Section 6-07.5 explaining when to use Stone Mastic Asphalt.

This manual addendum replaces General Letter No. 11, 1995.

Contents, Volume III. Revision date changed to 8-4-95.

The revision dates for Section 9-04 has been changed to 8-4-95.

Table of Contents, Chapter IX. Revision date changed to 8-4-95 and Figure 9-04.3 was added.

Section 9-04 Erosion Control and Energy Dissipation. The entire section 9-04, excluding any figures, was reformatted to a one column format and the revision date changed to 8-4-95. Table 9-04.1 was moved to Figure 9-04.3 and all references to the table were changed. These changes are for the English Manual only as this section is not completed for the metric manual.

Several sentences are added to Section 9-04.3 to advise the designer that short lengths of different types of rock ditch liner types should be avoided as they are not economical and more difficult to construct. The designer should consider extending type 2 rock ditch liner through short lengths of type 1 and type 4 be extended through short lengths of type 3.
